It's Just Business... the Romancing of Ahjumma, 2 Weeks in Busan

Wanda Voy, new eBook author, announces a new release.

Orlando, FL, July 4, 2016: Wanda Voy, newly published eBook author, announces her release, "It's Just Business... the Romancing of Ahjumma, 2 Weeks in Busan."

Voy, 56, is excited to embark on this new venture in her life. When asked why she decided to spend her free time writing, she said, "Sometimes, you just have to take a leap."

The first of the series "It's Just Business... the Romancing of Ahjumma," "2 Weeks in Busan" introduces Ki Soo and Lee Ho-Jun, players in the Seoul business community. Ki Soo, a woman of 45 and expat from the United States, is Chairman of the Board of a huge advertising corporation and Lee Ho-Jun, a man of 25, is her Director of Creative Services.

"2 Weeks in Busan" is a romance novel, yet covers several controversial topics in its plot line, including cougar/cub relationships, gay relationships, child abandonment and abuse, crime against women, and corporate espionage. Meanwhile, the reader is lead through a growing romantic relationship, and descriptive elements of South Korea, her history and culture.
